WHERE IS MRS. W.D. WASHBURN?

Said to Have Left Home with Ed COONS.

CLYDE, June 2. W.D. WASHBURN of Fairview, Wayne county, came to Clyde yesterday in quest of his wife, who, he alleges, left home May 2d in company with a man named Ed COONS. Mr. WASHBURN's business of selling perfumes, extracts and essences, takes him from home much of the time, and it was during his absence that the man COONS, according to the neighbors, came and stole, not only the wife, but about everything else portable in the house, hiring a man to cart the goods to Lyons.

Mr. WASHBURN states that he received a letter from his wife, dated May 1st, which expressed the hope that he would soon return home, as she was so lonesome without him and missed him so. The letter was so pathetic that he cut his trip short and hastened home. When he arrived the next day after receiving the letter he found his home deserted, and quite largely denuded. By the aid of a detective he traced the guilty pair to Clyde, but at this point last trace of them again. Mr. WASHBURN is not so anxious to secure the return of his wife, but does want the property she carried away with her.

THAT ABANDONED CHILD.

Identification of Mother and Father Former a Young Girl.

PENN YAN, June 2. The investigation into the matter of the girl infant which was left on the premises of Mrs. E.G. FOLSOM, on the Dresden road, on the morning of Wednesday last, have progressed rapidly for the intervening time, under the direction of Overseer of the Poor DENNISTON and Constable WADLE, and have resulted in the finding of its mother and a definite idea also of its father. The mother is a 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. James COOK, who lives on Sheppard street. Her name is Florence COLEGROVE. The family have resided until lately in different parts of the country, on different farms. The father is a young married man living in this village. The girl has made an affidavit in regard to the matter, and it is more than probably that the father will be arrested for the crime of rape. No evidence has yet been taken in regard to who took the child to the place where it was abandoned, but that will be brought out at an examination into the case which will shortly be held.

THE CENSUS MAN.

Are you ready for the census,
Have you read the almanac?
Have you studied your ancestors
For a dozen cycles back?
Have you counted up your freckles?
Have you figured up your sins?
For you know you'll have to tell'em
When the census man begins.

Have you added up the children?
Have you figured up your cash?
Did you ever find a button
In a dish of corn beef hash?
Are you deaf or blind or ugly?
Do you toe out or toe in?
All of this you'll have to answer
When the Census man begins.

Do you lisp or squint or stammer?
Ever have the whooping cough?
Are you handy with the hammer?
Ever do a stunt at golf?
Are you fond of checkered neckties?
Ever fall and bark your shins?
Did you swear? You'll have to tell it
When the Census man begins.

If your partner gave trump signal
Would you lend him back the deuce?
Ever wear a porous plaster?
Was it hard to get it loose?
Are you fond of pickled onions?
Do you smoke or chew or swear?
Have you any corns or bunions?
What the size of shoe you wear?

Oh, you might as well look pleasant
For you know you'll have to tell.
Would you use a bit more sugar
When the jelly doesn't jell?
What's the nature of your labors?
Do you sugar your baked beans?
Are you friendly with the neighbors?
Do you live beyond your means?

Are you lean or stout or medium?
Do you suit yourself that way?
Did you vaccination take well?
Did you move the first of May?
If a bob-tailed flush called aces,
Could you tell me which one wins?
Oh, you'll have to come to center
When the census man begins.

Are the children well this summer?
Are they troubled with the hives?
Don't you think pink teas are tiresome?
Did you ever play high fives?
Didn't see you at the party?
Don't you go out any more?
Well, good morning! Can you tell me
Who the family is next door?
James W. FOLEY, Jr., in Bismarck Tribune.

Sudden Death of Mrs. Calvin Cobb - Serious Runaway Accident

--Clark SHERWOOD, who lived on the west shore of Conesus lake, died yesterday. Mr. SHERWOOD had been in poor health for some time.

--Mr. and Mrs. John REED and child, living near Brockport, met with an accident last Saturday evening while returning home from the lake at North Hamlin. Their horse became frightened, apparently without cause, at Hamlin Center, and ran away, overturning the buggy and throwing out its occupants. Mr. REED and the child were unhurt, but Mrs. REED received a bad cut in the forehead. The horse ran a short distance to the Methodist Church and was caught uninjured. The carriage was also uninjured.

--The people of Webster were very much shocked on Saturday evening as the news of the death of Mrs. Calvin K. COBB passed from mouth to mouth. Mrs. COBB had been ailing for a few weeks, but ate her dinner as usual, and was assisting in washing the dinner dishes when the hired girl noticed she was about to fall and caught in her arms. Physicians were summoned who pronounced it paralysis and she expired at 3 o'clock P. M. She was born in Perinton, October 16, 1828, and was married November 15, 1859. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Peter HENDEE, of Webster, and Mrs. Mary STRATTON, of Pendleton, Oregon, a brother, C. W. RICHARDSON, of Webster, and an adopted son, Charles COBB. She was a member of the Universalist Church, and will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends. Funeral services Tuesday at 2 P. M. at her late residence, Rev. M. REGAL officiating.

The Suspension Bridge Collectorship -- Disappointed Candidates' Threats

--The grocery store of Ex-Alderman George M. HOAG, of Lockport, has been closed on a chattel mortgage.

--Walter J. KLEINE, of Lockport, has been awarded the free scholarship to Cornell University. Mr. KLEINE passed highest in the competition examination from this county.

--Charles H. YATES, an insurance agent of Lockport, has been arrested on a charge of grand larceny, preferred by a Niagara Falls man, who claims that YATES attempted to swindle him in an insurance deal. It is said that several more charges are pending. He has been admitted to bail.

--After an almost unbearable suspense, to some of Lockport's prominent politicians, the Suspension Bridge collectorship question has been disposed of and Lockport is to be congratulated on securing the plum. Edward J. TAYLOR, whose nomination with several others, was sent to the senate yesterday, was born here in 1856 and, with the exception of one year spent in Colorado, has since resided here. He was given three years of a high school education and then studied law in the office of William FARNELL. He was admitted to the bar in 1880 and has since by hard untiring labor attained a large and paying practice. Owing to the increase of business Charles L. NICHOLLS, a prominent young lawyer, was admitted as a partner last January. Mr. TAYLOR is highly elated over his glorious victory and is receiving congratulations upon all sides. But there now remains that which was inevitable from the start, the sore and vengeful party whose man was defeated, and if the work of this party is to be relied upon, the outcome of the next election will be a more glorious victory for the Republicans than the previous one. Mr. NICHOLLS will probably conduct the legal business during Mr. TAYLOR's term of office.

SENECA

--W. C. DAVIS, of Waterloo, did not participate in the Fourth of July bicycle races, as was reported.

--Rev. Thomas KENNEDY, of Rochester, celebrated high mass at St. Mary's Church, Waterloo, on Sunday.

--Rev. R. D. MUNGER, presiding elder of the Auburn district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, formerly of Waterloo, was in that place yesterday, on his way to dedicate the new Methodist house of worship at Stanley, to-day. He reported Rev. Dr. QUEAL, presiding elder of the Geneva district, as being very ill.

YESTERDAY A DAY OF SAD TRAGEDIES

South Livonia Man Killed In His Barn By Lightning
A Girl Ground to Death
Miss Sullivan Instantly Killed at Lockport on Her Way to Church --
Edward Wescott, of Kanona, Found a Shapeless, Bleeding Mass Near His Home

Andrew KIEDER, who lived near South Livonia, on the Conesus side of the road that divides that town from Livonia, went to his barn between 6 and 7 o'clock yesterday morning. Soon after the rain and electric storm that passed over that section burst with considerable fury, accompanied with sharp thunder. His family heard a peculiar rumble and shattering noise, and going into the barn found him dead. The fluid had struck his head, burning his face and blackening his right arm. No fire had been communicated to the building and hardly a trace of the entrance or exit of the bolt that did the work was to be found. Mr. KUDER was 60 years old, a lieutenant in the Civil war, a member of the E. S. Gilbert G. A. R. Post and a Mason. He had attended a meeting of his Masonic Lodge Saturday evening at Livonia village. Mr. KUDER was a farmer and a well-known citizen. He leaves a widow, a son and two daughters. Nothing has so shocked the people of Livonia, Conesus and Groveland, his native town, in many years.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN

Kanona Man's Mangled Body Found Within Sight of Home

Edward WESCOTT, of Kanona, in the town of Bath, met with a terrible death about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, being struck and run over by an Erie freight train. The remains, scattered for a considerable distance along the railroad tracks, were discovered by a track walker about 5 o'clock yesterday morning. WESCOTT resided with his family in a house in close proximity to the Erie depot, and he was no doubt on his way home when he was killed. He had evidently walked up the railroad tracks, intending to cut across the field to his home, thereby making his walk shorter. He was struck a few feet west of the Erie depot and about 200 feet distance from his home. It is quite likely that he was killed by an Erie freight train which passes through Kanona about 2 A. M. His body was literally cut in pieces and rolled into a shapeless mass. Only a part of the head remained intact and his features were unrecognizable by his friends. His brains were scattered several feet along the tracks and ties which were covered with blood.

As soon as the remains were discovered Coroner John T. HORTON of Hammondsport, was notified of the accident and he left at once for the scene. He ordered the remains picked up. They were placed in a box and made ready for burial. Overseer of the Poor George MURRAY, of Bath, was applied to dispose of the remains and he notified Superintendent of the Poor William C. ACKER, who had the remains buried yesterday afternoon in the cemetery at Wheeler at the request of the family of the deceased. WESTCOTT was employed as foreman in the mills of the Kanona Lumber Company. He was about 40 years of age and leaves a widow and four children in moderate circumstances.

YOUNG GIRL'S AWFUL DEATH

Miss Rose Marie Sullivan, of Elmira, Ground Under an Engine

One of the most horrible accidents which ever took place in Lockport occurred at 10:05 o'clock yesterday morning at the Caledonia and Hawley street crossing of the New York Central & Hudson River railroad. Miss Rose Marie SULLIVAN, daughter of a prominent and wealthy Elmira citizen, was instantly killed by the Central express train from Buffalo, which is due in Lockport at 10:00 o'clock every Sunday morning.

The accident was an unusually unfortunate one. Miss SULLIVAN went to the city Wednesday to be the guest of Miss Monica HUSTON, daughter of ex-Alderman and Mrs. J. Charles HUSTON, of Caledonia street. At 9:58 o'clock the young ladies left the HUSTON residence and started for St. Patrick's Church on Church street. They proceeded down Caledonia street to Hawley where the Central-Hudson crossing is. Hardly had they reached the crossing planks when the express train came rushing along at a good rate of speed. The girls stopped for a second, and then Miss SULLIVAN, evidently thinking she had ample time to cross in safety, ran forward. Miss HUSTON called to her, and Louis H. HUSTON, a brother of Miss Monica HUSTON, sprang forward from the other side of the crossing to stop the young lady before she was squarely upon the east-bound track. Flagman OATS also rushed up, but before any of them reached Miss SULLIVAN she was directly in front of the huge engine and in another second she lay twenty-five feet from the rails a bruised mass of flesh and bone.

Drs. H. H. MAYNE, Alexander McNAMARA, J. Carl BLACKLEY, William H. HODSON and J. Charles PREISH were on the scene in a few minutes. Miss SULLIVAN breathed a few minutes and then passed away. Coroner Henry L. CLEVELAND was notified and went at once to the scene where the fatality occurred. The train had stopped and all hands connected with it were standing about the body when the coroner arrived. He at once released them and the express resumed its eastern journey. The body was taken back to the HUSTON residence and later to PRUDDEN Brothers' morgue on Main street. The young ladies father was notified by wire and the remains will be taken to Elmira to-day for interment. Coroner CLEVELAND will hold an investigation.

Miss SULLIVAN was a well-educated young girl and popular with all. She was just past 16 years of age. Besides a father she leaves two brothers and one sister to mourn her loss.

ONTARIO

Death at Geneva Sanatorium of One of Syracuse's Oldest Business Men

At the sanatorium in Geneva Saturday occurred the death of William E. ABBOTT, a prominent and wealthy resident of the city of Syracuse, at the age of 77 years. Deceased had been at the Geneva sanatorium for the past two or three months, going there from Clifton Springs where he suffered a stroke of paralysis from which he never recovered. His wife and a niece from Utica were with him when he died.

Mr. ABBOTT was born in Lowville, January 19, 1822, and was educated at Gouverneur and Lowville academies, and a preparatory school in Oberlin, Ohio. He began his business career in the city of Utica in the year 1838, when he was 16 years old, where he served as a clerk in dry good stores for nearly four years. He removed to Syracuse at the end of his apprenticeship and located the first dry goods store there in 1842, purchasing the stock owned by F. W. ANDREWS, brother of Judge Charles ANDREWS, former chief justice of the court of appeals. Associated with him was his brother Henry G. ABBOTT. The stock they purchased was a general one. They sold out everything but the dry goods, which business he conducted exclusively for the next thirty-five years. It was thus he earned the distinction of being the oldest dry goods merchant in Syracuse. Mr. ABBOTT subsequently went into the coal business for a few years, making a period of fifty-seven years during which he was in active business life in the Salt city. During that time he earned for himself an enviable reputation as a man of affairs and a public-spirited citizen. He took especial interest in the public and charitable institutions of Syracuse. He was for three years inspector of the penitentiary and twice elected supervisor. He was one of the incorporators of the Onondaga County Savings Bank, of which institution he was vice-president at the time of his death, and in the affairs of which he took an active interest, giving much of his time and personal attention to the management. He was a Republican in politics, being instrumental in forming that party in New York state. In the days of slavery he was a strong abolitionist and aided between 300 and 400 slaves to obtain their freedom through the underground railroad. He was present at the Jerry Rescue and very influential in politics.

--Word has been received at Canandaigua by relatives of Chester C. HAYES, now in Paris, that one of his paintings has been accepted by the salon committee, and will hang on the line. As there were 10,000 paintings submitted, and only 3,000 accepted, Mr. HAYES is to be congratulated on his success.

I just read your word docs attached. Thanks for the information! One note - Selah (Celia) Cheney was not born in Sharon, Litchfield. Her Father Zebulon Tyler was born and raised in Windham County, Brooklyn and Canterbury. She was baptized in South Killingly, Windham with her mother Betty, of Pomfret and Canterbury. Neither Joseph or Selah were in Litchfield. Way too much info, but I have found a lot of very good info on Joseph and Selah (did you ever see the South Killingly Church records that show Betty, wife of Zebulon Tyler, bapt with her daughter Selah and son Abijah? June 20, 1770). As you know, Joseph moved to Vermont, as did Elizabeth and her husband above, just about the same time. Selah's uncles moved to the same county, Orange Vt. at about the same time - Phineas Tyler and Oliver Tyler (who married Abigail Warren) and Noah Adams and Chester Adams.

3 great grandparents: Job Tyler (c. 1620 in Cranbrook, Kent Co., England d. after 3-14-1663 in Massachusetts) and Mary

Children: Moses (c. 1641/42), Mary (c.1644), Hopestill (c.1646), Child (who died in infancy, "1646, month 1, day 28."), Hannah, John (born about 1650; died in Andover, Sept. 28, 1652), John (4-16-1653), Samuel (5-24-1655)

JOB1 TYLER was born about 1619, as in a deposition of 1659, his age is stated as "about 40 yeares." The author of this history (who died before its publication) left a note stating that he had never been able to "find a scintilla of evidence upon which to base" the tradition that Job Tyler was a native of Shropshire, England. Job's death is nowhere recorded. It is conjectured that he died in Mendon and was there buried, but no proof is at hand to confirm the supposition. He married Mary - -. It has been thought by one of the descendants of Job engaged in research that she may have been a widow Horton, but the proof of this statement has not been forthcoming. She was dismissed to the church in "Mendham" from the church in Roxbury on the 28th day of the third month (May), 1665. Her birth and death are unrecorded so far as present research has gone. The eldest child was born in Roxbury or Andover as was probably the third; the fifth and sixth in Roxbury; the others are uncertai!

>From Tag (The American Genealogist), April 1992, Vol. 67, No,2, "The English Origin of Robert Blott of Charlestown and Boston, Mass" by Penny G. Douglass ".....His will and other Massachusetts records indicate that he had children Mary, married before 1639 Thomas Woodford; daughter, married first a Green, and second a Tosier; Joanna, married 1644-45 Daniel Lovett; Lydia, married before August 1646 Daniel Turin or Turell; and Sarah, born about 1631, married 1652 Edward Ellis."

The TAG article goes on to speculate that Robert may have been the son of an earlier Robert of Harrold, who left a will dated 03 Jan. 1609/10. He mentions a wife Elizabeth, and sons William, John, Robert, Thomas; and daughters Marye, Alice, Edith (or Judith), and Joane. This article, and the subsequent one, "John Black of Charlestown Was Really Robert Blott" by Robert Charles Anderson both concur, by the way, that Robert had only one wife, Susanna Selbee.

Benjamin Fassett's will:.....I will to my only daughter Elizabeth TYLER of my moveable estate four pewter dishes, six pewter plates, two pewter basons, two pewter poringers which was of sd pewter that was used in my house in the days of Elizabeth FASSET my first wife.....When Elizabeth Tyler's mother, Elizabeth Parks died, her father Benjamin remarried to Eleanor (Fassett) Adams (when her husband Issac Adams died). Benjamin was born 17 July 1690 in Billerica, Mass. He 1st m. on the 4 Feb. 1713/14 to Elizabeth Park of Concord, Mass., the daughter of Lt. Richard and Elizabeth Hastings Billings Park. At this time of his marriage he was called "of Lexington," according to Concord Records. He married 2nd on 5 Feb. 1758 to Mrs. Eleanor Adams. He died 3 October 1764.

Thomas Bellows Wyman, Genealogies and Estates of Charlestown, Massachusetts 1629 - 1818 (Boston David Clapp & Son 1879) calls John REYLEY, ROYLLEY, brother-in-law to Patrick FASSETT which implies that Sarah FASSETT was either a REYLEY or sister to John REYLEY's wife. I found no proof of this but made only a limited search at this time.

<http://ludawn.tripod.com/id2.html>: "I reflect back on the long held story that Patrick MacPherson and wife Sarah fled from Scotland to escape religious persecution. They changed their name to Fassett to conceal their identity. Then came to Massachusetts from Rock Fassett Castle, Ireland. If this be the true story of out Patrick and Sarah, then they may have left before Cromwell struck havoc throughout Scotland." "Why else would Patrick have had to change his name from MacPherson to Fassett? If he came in via a prisoner ship, he would most likely have no need to change his name as a prisoner, and once pronounced a free man, there would be no need to make such a change." "I would rather believe that he and his wife fled just before the break-out of the war, or during the very early start of it. The Rock Fassett Castle intrigues me and I hope to be able to one day include more about it. At this time it is merely a name of a place which once meant something I'm sure to Patri! ck and Sarah."

Patrick was born in 1629 and died Nov. 1713 at the age of 85. He is buried in the Old South Cemetary, Billerica, Mass. with grave stone. He married Sarah Reyley.. The following information/data is taken from Katherine Fassett-Schuster's book: The Fassett Genealogy with Additions Added To, By Lu Dawn Ross-Fassett.

Elizabeth Park

Parents: Lt. Richard Park (about 1667 in prob. Concord, MA to 6-19-1725 in Concord, MA) and Elizabeth Billings (11-6-1669 in Concord, MA to 6-27-1756 in Concord, MA) Married: November 6, 1690 in Concord, Middlesex Co., Massachusetts

Children: Joseph (1-9-1691), Elizabeth (1-29-1692), Sarah (5-8-1696), Josiah (1-10-1698), Abigail (9-11-1700), Jonathan (2-1702), David (7-30-1703), Hannah (5-18-1704), Isaac (12-26-1707), Rebecca (12-26-1707), Ephraim (1710), Daniel, Zaccheus

That Lt. Richard Park, of Concord, was not identical with Richard, son of Thomas, is easily proved by the following considerations:

1st. Richard Parks and Elizabeth Billings were married according to the Concord records, May 14, 1690. They had children Joseph born 1691, Elizabeth born 1693, Sarah born 1696 Josiah born 1698 and Abigail born 1700; just in the very decade of years that Richard the son of Thomas, was on Mr. Jackson's authority having quite a different lot of children born at Newton. 2nd. Lt. Richard Parks, of Concord, died June 19, 1725, in the 5th year of his age; his tombstone being the authority. This would bring his birth in the year 1667 or 1668. While according to Dr. Bond, Richard the son of Thomas was born Dec. 21, 1663, and was thus four or five years older than the Lt. Richard of Concord. 3rd. In the record of the births of his children at Concord, Lt. Richard is frequently called Richard Parks JR. This of itself would imply that there was a Richard Parks SENIOR, then living.

Grandparents: Richard Parke (d. after August 30, 1715 in prob. Weston, MA) and Mary (d. after 1715 in prob. Weston, MA)

Children: Richard (c.1667), John

On April 9, 1711, Richard Parks, senior and his wife Mary and John Parks and wife Deliverance, all of Concord, sell and convey unto Richard Parks Jr., of said Concord, a certain messuage or tenement containing two dwelling houses, and two barns and thirty acres of upland, in south part of Concord and bounding on land of Joseph Da-ey, John Smith, Daniel Dean, and John Heywood. This deed, as well as several others from various grantors to Lieut. Richard Parks, appears to have escaped record until after Lt. Richard's death when they were all recorded at once, probably to facilitate the settlement of the estate.

John Parks, husband of Deliverance, was a son of Richard and Mary. Find no record of his birth or that of Lieutenant Richard. They must have been born before their parents left Cambridge for Sherborn. John Parks sold his birthright to Lieut. Richard, removed to Weston with his wife and two daughters; and father and mother went there also, for it is recorded in Vol. II of the Middlesex Court records, page 316, under date of Aug. 30, 1715 that: " At his Majesty's Court of General Sessions of ye Peace holden at Concord the Selectmen of Weston are allowed to enter their caution against one Richard Parks, and his wife Mary, both being aged and impotent persons, being inhabitants of their town, having been warned by a constable pursuant to law, to remove out of their town." Here we must leave our newly discovered Richard and Mary, parents of Lieut. Richard Parks.

Great grandparents: Richard Parke (c. 1602 in England to 1665 in Cambridge, MA) and Margery
Children: Richard, Thomas (c.1628), Isabel (c.1629), Elizabeth (c.1631)

RICHARD1 PARKE Appeared at Cambridge, Massachusetts, in 1635. He was a miller by occupation and a large landowner. Born in England, he sailed from London in the ship "Defence," which left England August 10, 1635 and arrived at Boston October 3, 1635. While all previously published accounts give but three children to Richard1 Parke, and have entirely , ignored the existence of a second Richard; there seem to be very good reasons for believing that this second Richard was the oldest son of Richard'. Notwithstanding the fact that the first Richard dying in 1665, named in his will no son but Thomas, I am still convinced that this Richard of Cambridge Village was his son, who being older than his brother Thomas, had already received his portion of his father's estate during the lifetime of his father. The will of the first Richard Parks is a curious document; written partly in the first person and partly in the third person; obviously dictated; not mentioning by name his wife or either of his daughters, and with a meaningless and shapeless blot in place of a signature, as if the baud that held the pen were already too weak to write.

After being paid on 1/6/1676, they waited for orders that were given on 2/15/1676 to return to Sudbury, and finally paid on 6/24/1676 for the campaign. Before the outbreak of King Phillip's war, Richard Adams had gone in 1673 with his mother to Worcester Co., Mass. (originally Suffolk Co., until 1713) south of Lancaster, where she had land. After the war Richard was married in Sudbury; and he and his wife remained at Sudbury until after 1689, the last date of a birth recorded for them there. They attended the Sudbury Church, founded in 1640. Richard was near Major James Fitch, who settled north of him in the Lisbon section, Preston, being south of Lisbon and east of Norwich. In the summer of 1695 Richard is reported as a tax collector for Major Fitch. In an altercation with one of the major's tenants over the rent, he is reported to have been struck by Benjamin Palmer, and the case went to the N!

(Re: Ensign Richard Adams ancestry? By: William Adams Kemp, October 31, 2002 9:46pm) Rachel Cloud in her research says that the Mass Court Records Vol 5 states...that Francis Adams, widow of James had 150 acres of land laid out to her by the Mass General Court. south of Lancaster, MA. Francis' son Richard was with her. If this was true then there must have been another Richard Adams born later on. I have not found this record however. She says it was reported in Our Quaker Ancestors by Wesley on page 72. I have not been able to track this source.

<http://www.treetreetree.org.uk/AdamsJohnofPlymouth.htm#Richard>: Naturally, descendants of Richard Adams of Sudbury would like to be descendants of the early settler John Adams and the glamorous William Vassall. The problem is that James and Frances (Vassall) Adams's recorded son Richard died soon after birth. It is argued by some that this Richard is an unrecorded son. Hayward argues that the vital records of Sudbury and the will of Richard Adams make it clear that these are the same person. The land records of Canterbury, Norwich and Plainfield show that there were two Richard Adams: an uncle and a nephew, who was of age in 1701. The vital records of Sudbury show a son Richard born to William Adams on 22 Aug 1678. It is reasonable to assume that Richard and William were brothers, and both were the son of James.

Richard Adams died on 24 Aug 1728 in Norwich. He married Rebecca Davis on 24 Jun 1679 in Sudbury. Who was Rebecca Davis? It is sometimes claimed, without evidence, that she is the daughter of Robert and Bridget (Loker) Davis of Sudbury. (See Marrotte.) This is consistent with her being married in Sudbury and Savage says that Robert and Bridget had surviving daughters Sarah and Rebecca. However, Sarah's birth is recorded in Sudbury, while Rebecca's is not. In his 17 (5) 1655 will, Robert Davis left his house, land and moveables to his wife Bridget. He mentions his daughter Sarah, but not Rebecca. It is possible, however, that Bridget was born after he signed his will. After her husband's death, Bridget Loker married Thomas King. In his will, Thomas mentions Sarah's husband John Brigham, but not Rebecca.

Richard was a member of Capt. Mosely's company from Sudbury in King Philip's War. After the fighting on 19 Dec 1675, he was listed as one of nine wounded men at Rhode Island on 6 Jan 1676.

Richard was an early freeholder of Plainfield, living on the west side of the Quinebaug on 24 Dec 1702 (.Hayward, Kendall, "Richard Adams of Sudbury, Mass.; Plainfield and Norwich, Conn.," The American Genealogist 23, 1946, 141-149, Addenda 24, 1948, 193).

Great grandparents: James Adams (d. after 1656) and Frances Vassall (c.1623 in Cold Norton, Essex Co., England to after 5-7-1673 in Sudbury, MA) Married: June 16, 1646 in Scituate, MA
Children: William (5-16-1647), Ann (4-18-1649), Richard (4-19-1651 d. 7-25-1651), Mary (1-27-1653), Margaret (Bapt.3-18-1654), Richard

James Adams died after 1656 when he was living on the Island of Barbadoes where he purchased 3000 pounds of "good Marchantable Muskovadoe Sugar" from Nicholas Ware.

2 great grandparents: John Adams (d.1633 in Plymouth, MA) and Ellen (buried 12-5-1681 in Marshfield, MA)
Children: James, John, Susannah
John Adams came to Plymouth, Massachusetts on the ship "Fortune" on November 9, 1621.

John Winslow and John Jenny took an inventory of the goods of John Adams; the total was 71 14s., of which 37 10s. was in neat cattle. The inventory was presented at court on 11 November 1633, and the widow Ellen Adams was named administratrix, the deceased having left no will; she was bound in the sum of 140, John Barnes surety, to provide 5 apiece to her three children by John Adams - James, John and Susan - when they came of age, if she should choose to remarry. The payment to son James, made by Kenelm Winslow, was recorded on 26 December 165
