

- Griswold, Roger Mervin, of Portland. Great great grandson of White Griswold, a private soldier in the Revolution.
- Goodwin, James Junius, of Hartford. Great grandson of Lemuel Roberts, Captain of a Simsbury, Conn., company, which marched at the Lexington Alarm, April, 1775.
- Gross, William H., of Hartford. Great grandson of John Barnard of Hartford, Captain of the Sixth Company of the Third Connecticut Continental Line for four years, 1777 to 1780 inclusive; also in active service in the militia, 1776.
- Gross, Charles E., of Hartford. Great grandson of John Barnard, Captain in the Sixth Company of the Third Connecticut Continental Line for four years, 1777. to 1780 inclusive; also in active service in the militia, 1776.
- Grant, Roswell, of East Windsor Hill. Grandson of Roswell Grant, Captain in 1778 in Col. Johnson's regiment, Connecticut Militia; then in Col. Enos's regiment, Connecticut Militia.
- Giddings, Howard A., of Hartford. Great great grandson of Ezra Tucker, minute man in Capt. Barnes's company.
- Greene, Jacob L., of Hartford. Great grandson of Lieut. Thomas Greene. Also, descended from Gen. Joseph Frye, of Andover, Mass., and Fryeburg, Maine.
- Goodwin, George H., of East Hartford. Grandson of Andrew Kingsbury, a private soldier in Col. John Chester's Regiment of Connecticut Troops, 1776.
- Gillette, Albert B., of Hartford. Great grandson of Nathan Gillette, a minute man of Simsbury, Conn., in the Lexington Alarm; fifer in the Eighteenth Connecticut Militia, 1776; and fifer in the Sixth Connecticut Continental Line, for three years, being promoted to Fife Major in June, 1779.
- Goodrich, William H., of Hartford. Grandson of Ichabod Goodrich of Wethersfield, Conn., who served as a private in the Sixth Connecticut Continental Line, 1777 to 1781, and then in the Third Connecticut Continental Line, 1781.
- Goodsell, Lewis, of Redding. Son of Lewis Goodsell, Sergeant in Capt. Dimon's Militia Company at Fairfield, Conn., 1776, and Lieutenant in Capt. Hill's Militia Company, Col. Whiting's Regiment, in a short campaign at the Fishkills, N. Y., 1777.
- Goodrich, Elizur S., of Wethersfield. Grandson of Simeon Goodrich, a private in Col. S. B. Webb's Regiment, Connecticut Continental Line, 1780.
- Gay, Erastus, of Farmington. Great grandson of Fisher Gay, Lieut. Colonel in Col. Wolcott's Connecticut Militia Regiment, in active service, 1776; Colonel of the Second Battalion, Wadsworth's Connecticut brigade, with Washington at New York, and Colonel of the Fifteenth Connecticut Militia, dying in camp in August, 1776.
- Griswold, Esther Eliza. Great granddaughter of White Griswold, a private soldier at the Revolution.
- Gardiner, Curtis C., of St. Louis, Mo. Great grandson of Curtis Crane, a private soldier in the Revolution.
- Hart, Frederic J., of New Haven. Great grandson of Lieut. Samuel Hart, who was in the battle of Saratoga and wounded there.
- Hart, Charles E., of New Haven. Great grandson of Lieut. Samuel Hart, who was in the battle of Saratoga and wounded there.
- Hart, Franklin H., of New Haven. Great grandson of Samuel Hart, Lieutenant in the Revolution, who was wounded in the Battle of Saratoga.
- Hotchkiss, Hobert L., of New Haven. Great gr at grandson of Gideon Hotchkiss, Captain in the Revolutionary and French wars.
- Hendee, Edward Dwight, of New Haven. Great grandson of Caleb Hendee of Ashford, Conn., Sergeant and Ensign; Lieutenant in Gen. Waterbury's Connecticut State brigade, 1781, and detailed as a member of Washington's Life Guard.